

Ishwari Kenchi

Profile

A highly motivated engineering student currently pursuing a B.Tech in CSE (AIMLD S), scheduled to graduate in 2029. I enjoy learning about AI, machine learning, and how technology can solve real problems. I like taking things one step at a time and improving my skills through practice and curiosity. I'm still exploring my interests in the tech field, but I'm always open to learning something new and taking on challenges that help me grow. My goal is simply to keep getting better and build a strong foundation for my future career.
